16. REMARKS

BLOCK 4: Prepare in contractor format with content described in the PWS, DID, and the following: Within the SDP, the Contractor shall define the Contractor's proposed life cycle model and the processes used as a part of that model. In this context, the term "life cycle model" is as defined in IEEE/EIA Std. 12207.0. Furthermore, the SDP shall describe the overall life cycle and shall include primary, supporting, and organizational processes based on the work content of the contract. Within the SDP, the Contractor shall define the processes, the activities to be performed as a part of the processes, the tasks which support the activities, and the techniques and tools to be used to perform the tasks in accordance with the framework defined in IEEE/EIA Std. 12207.0. Information provided must include, as a minimum, specific standard, methods, tools, action, strategies, and responsibilities associated with development and qualification. The SDP shall contain the information defined by IEEE/EIA Std. 12207.1, section 5.2.1 (generic content) and the Plans or Procedures in Table 1 of IEEE/EIA Std. 12207.1. The level of detail shall be sufficient to define all software development processes, activities, and tasks to be conducted.

BLOCK 10-13: The Contractor shall deliver a draft deliverable within 5 business days of contract award. The Government will review the draft deliverable. If the deliverable requires clarification or revision, the Government will provide the Contractor with comments or suggested revisions via email or other electronic means. If Government comments are made on the draft deliverable, the Contractor shall provide a final revised deliverable with incorporated Government comments and revisions within 5 business days after receipt of the Government's comments. Where no Government comment is necessary, the Government will treat the draft deliverable as the final deliverable, eliminating the need for the Contractor to resubmit a revised final deliverable. In either case, the deliverable shall not be construed as accepted until the Government emails the Contractor a fully executed DD250 stating that the deliverable has been received and accepted..

The Contractor shall provide updates to the deliverable when required to maintain the deliverable's accuracy during the period of performance, but such updates shall not occur more frequent than monthly. Contractors shall provide such updates within 5 business days following Government's request to update the deliverable. Updated deliverable submissions shall be submitted with a document change log or appendix for the purpose of version management.

BLOCK 14: The Contractor shall utilize the existing Government Integrated Digital Environment (IDE) or email for soft copy distribution of data items. Any deliverable containing sensitive information or that is too large for email distribution shall be submitted in Compact Disk to the COR using appropriate means.
